

Website Summary

The purpose of this website is to act as a central online resume for a software developer. The goal is to show off front end development skills and at the same time provide a way to view a resume and a record of all relevant projects. The users of this application would be anyone looking to hire this developer or for a recruiter to find out more information about the developer. A few of the key features are the 'Contact Me' page and the 'Portfolio' page. The goal of these pages is to showcase the projects and technologies the developer knows and how to contact the developer if someone is interested in their services.

An example of a process might be contacting the developer, in which case the process is as simple as scrolling down to the contact me page and leaving a note, or inquiring further via one of the communication links.
